

Nurse Practitioner Healthcare Foundation

Find new jobs today!

Contract Negotiation for Nurse Practitioners: 7 Factors to Consider

Contract negotiation is a fact of life in your career as a nurse practitioner, and the details can be overwhelming, particularly if this will be your first job out of school.

It's a sound investment to have an employment lawyer review your contract before signing so you can be certain you understand it fully. However, it's also up to you to try to make sense of the salary and benefit packages being offered. Here are seven factors to consider during your next NP contract negotiation.

Read more >>

How to Cope With a Bad Boss

We've all had them: bad bosses. Whether it's because they provide too little — or too much — guidance and supervision; have poor communication skills; are irritable and difficult to predict; or are just downright mean and unfair, the fact is that our boss has a big impact on our life.

Learn how to deal >>

The No. 1 place for your job search is now better than ever!

Try It Now →

Want to Know if a Job is a Good Fit?

We made it easy to learn more about potential employers. Just click on the "Employer Profile" and "Reviews" tabs.

Set It And Forget It

Create a job alert right from the search results page to be among the first to know when new jobs match your preferences.

Search Jobs Now →